

Foundation for a successful future

Re-certification of Carl Stahl Kromer GmbH according to ISO 9001: 2015 and ISO 14001: 2015

The year 2017 was extremely successful for Carl Stahl Kromer GmbH - together we were able to achieve excellent results, which exceeded our own expectations. The new year has begun, and once again we have set ourselves ambitious goals, because standstill actually means falling behind.

The first step, we have already taken in the right direction. The successful re-certification according to the standards ISO 9001: 2015 and ISO 14001: 2015 is to set for a promising future at the beginning of the year.

As a responsibility-minded company, we see it as an obligation to our employees and customers to continuously increase our corporate performance, with environment also taking into account. Our thoughts and actions have been directing by this principle for many years. With the successful re-certification, Carl Stahl Kromer GmbH once again sets a milestone for a promising future.

A certificate with focus

ISO 9001: 2015 and 14001: 2015 introduces new minimum requirements for a process-oriented management and environmental management system. During the re-certification, we have again put all our essential operational processes to the test, and optimized the processes according to the specifications of the new standards. The standards are a solid and groundbreaking foundation for us, on which our company can develop and grow. The re-certification by the auditors of the TÜV SÜD Management Service GmbH certifies us a high credibility inside and outside of our organization and clearly expresses that the Carl Stahl Kromer GmbH reacts to changes in a timely manner and is forward-looking and trustable.

Working together for certification

The management would like to take this opportunity to thank again for the high commitment of the employees. The exemplary cooperation between the various departments deserves special recognition. During the re-certification, the involved employees faced many, sometimes very complex challenges. High level of expertise and tireless dedication were the key factors to the success. According to the statements from the overall evaluation of the auditors, the excellent performance has been achieved in order to meet re-certification requirement - many thanks!

The management board

Statements from the overall evaluation of the auditors:

"Carl Stahl Kromer GmbH has a well-engineered management system that meets the requirements of ISO 9001: 2015 and ISO 14001: 2015."

"The traceability of raw materials, semi-finished products, products and tests is verifiably ensured throughout the entire process."

"Order and cleanliness is considered as a high priority in the company".